Standards development Technical Committee WS-006 Concrete Pipes Call for Member to represent National Precast Close date for EOI Wed Sept 14th

Standards Australia is calling for a NP representative for:

- Revision of AS 4198 Precast concrete access chambers for sewerage applications

Details of the first meeting of the Technical Committee will be advised once the constitution is finalised. Face-to-face meetings are generally held at Standards Australia's offices in Sydney. However, where there are committee members from other states, one or more meetings may be held in other locations.

For effective participation in the work of the Technical Committee, it is desirable that Committee Members are able to attend the meetings in person; however, as this is not always possible, audio and web-conferencing facilities can be made available. Alternatively, a substitute representative should attend the meeting on behalf of the Nominating Organisation and the Standards Australia Project Manager should be made aware of this change as soon as possible prior to the meeting date.
